PROFILE

I am a dedicated and driven MSc in Molecular Biomedicine from the University of Aarhus. What drives me professionally is to contribute to research focusing on the creation and development of differentiated antibody therapeutics for the treatment of cancer. From my education I bring a strong theoretical and practical background within the field of biomedicine as well as experience with research and laboratory work from my student job at Aarhus University Hospital. As a person I have an open-minded and systematic approach to the challenges I run into and strive to deliver high-quality work.

EDUCATION

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN MOLECULAR BIOMEDICINE

University of Aarhus | Feb 2020 - Mar 2022

Focus: Advanced understanding of the creation and development of differentiated antibody therapeutics for the treatment of cancer, together with actions of pharmacology and scientific communication.

Results: A grade average of 8,5.

MSc thesis: I conducted my Master's thesis in the international research group "Advanced antibody therapeutics" lead by Professor Ole Bovsen Andersen at LADP. I have acquired strong scientific and analytical skills as well as experience with planning and executing experiments – both independently or in collaboration with others.

Grade: 10/B.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN MOLECULAR BIOMEDICINE

University of Aarhus | Sep 2016 - Nov 2020

Focus: Human health and disease on a molecular, cellular and physiological level.

BSc thesis: I conducted my Bachelor's thesis in the research group Antibody Therapeutics Group lead by Professor Jonas Petersen, Department Biology – Molecular genetics, University of Aarhus.

Grade: 10/B.

EXCHANGE SEMESTER AT CLARK ATLANTA UNIVERSITY, GA

United states of America | Aug 2018 - Dec 2018

Courses: Cancer and neuroscience

EXPERIENCE

STUDENT BIOMEDICAL LABORATORY SCIENTIST

Aarhus University Hospital, Aarhus | May 2019 - June 2021

Duties: I was responsible for preparation and analysis of blood samples for a biobank regarding HIV infected patients, part of the Aarhus Co-morbidity in HIV infection study, COCOMO.

Results: Improving laboratory techniques, handling confident patient data, working clean and risk free.

ABOUT ME

SPORTS

I love sports!

I have played volleyball almost my entire life. I value my social life - and relations it has given me. Besides volleyball I also like to compete in more individual sports such as golf and running marathons.

BRAIN EXERCISE

In my spare time I enjoy keeping my mind in shape by solving jigsaw puzzles and crosswords. The structure and having an end-result suits me. I also do enjoy using my brain in more social activities such as playing board games – my all-time favorites being strategic board games like Risk and Small World.

TRAVEL

I love to travel, especially to exotic destinations with beautiful nature and exciting dive opportunities. My longing for exploring the other world below the surface always results in a highly anticipated annual dive vacation.

PERSONAL INFORMATION

Age: 30
Country: Denmark

PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

With a Master in Supply Chain Management I've gained deep knowledge of supply chain management and strategic sourcing. I have a professional passion for finding new and innovative ways to best practise. I have experience in working with strategic sourcing, contract negotiation, indirect procurement and stakeholder management. Having worked with people from all around the world, I've developed a great understanding of how different people perceive and solves problems. I'm a quick learner and have a keen sense of understanding complicated issues.

KEY SKILLS

Strategic sourcing
Global reporting
Stakeholder management
Tendering
Contract negotiation

RELEVANT WORK EXPERIENCE

ASSISTANT, INDIRECT PROCUREMENT & TRAVEL THOR 2019 - 2022

- Ran a global tender for travel management companies
- Contributed to different sourcing projects within car leasing, certification agencies and airlines
- Responsible for managing internal travel compliance

Results:

- With my responsibility of managing internal travel compliance, visualization of spending and sharing of best practices have been crucial to achieve our targets. With an annual travel spend of approx. 60m USD, increased compliance to internal travel policy has led to annual savings on air spend of approx. 20 %.

STUDENT ASSISTANT PROCUREMENT, THOR SHIPPING

Jun. 2017 - Dec. 2017

- Participated in setting up a global indirect procurement team, aligning workflows, and reporting structures
- Responsible for global reporting

Results:

- Performed deep diving analysis to track all indirect spending, across different categories. As a result, an indirect taxonomy was created visualizing spending and possible saving opportunities.

EDUCATION

MASTER OF SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT, BOULDER UNIVERSITY, COLORADO

Nov. 2018

Professional focus: Strategic Sourcing, Strategic Supply Chain Management, Global Business Logistics and other courses which are relevant to the modern Supply Chain Management.

Master Thesis: was awarded a certificate for the highest graded Master Thesis of the year. The thesis discussed how quality data affects modern Supply Chain and Procurement functions.

BACHELOR, INTERNATIONAL SALES AND MARKETING,

CBS Jan.2016

Professional focus: Micro- and macroeconomics, marketing, finance and business law.

Bachelor project: In cooperation with Thor Shipping, aiming to find solutions on how to bring down cost by improving compliance to internal travel policy.

OTHER EXPERIENCE

5-STEP SOURCING PROCESS

Internal training program in Thor, improving my sourcing skills. The programme aimed to bring sustainable savings to the bottom-line through 5 sourcing steps. The 5 steps span from researching the market to monitoring KPI's.

ITH AMSTERDAM 2022 - INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL TRADE SHOW

Participated in the world's biggest travel trade show. My takeaways were trends and changes to the global travel market. Especially within technology, the corporate travel market has changed the recent years, making the market move slightly towards B2C from the traditional B2B.

STA - SEALAND TRAVEL ASSOCIATION

STA is a Danish networking group for travel managers and procurement people. Participating in the debate, I learned about "best-in-class" performance, when managing corporate travel, i.e. how you manage your supplier and how you bring down cost, managing internal compliance to internal policies.

PERSONAL INTERESTS

If it's sunny, you will probably find me at an outdoor cafe having a cappuccino. You will also likely find me working out at the gym, because there's nothing like exercising to relax my mind. In the winter, I'll probably be on my couch watching Stranger Things or Game of Thrones. When I travel, I tend to be drawn to the desert. My favorite places so far are the Wadi Rum in Jordan and Joshua Tree in California.
