EDUCATION

Master in Global Health // University of Copenhagen 2022 – 2024

During my Master's program, I focused on global health systems, policy, and management. The coursework included in-depth studies of health disparities, epidemiology, and health economics. I engaged in various projects that involved analyzing health data and developing strategies to address global health issues.

- Thesis: "Evaluating Health Systems Resilience in Low-Income Countries," which analyzed the effectiveness of different health policies in improving health outcomes.
- Conducted a project on the impact of infectious diseases on vulnerable populations, resulting in a published paper in a peer-reviewed journal.
- Participated in a field study in Sub-Saharan Africa, gaining practical experience in health program implementation.

Bachelor in Development Studies // University of Barcelona 2019 – 2022

My Bachelor's degree provided a comprehensive understanding of development theories, economic policies, and social issues affecting developing countries. I gained skills in project planning, monitoring, and evaluation, which were applied in various group projects and research assignments.

- Final project on "The Role of Microfinance in Empowering Women in Rural Communities," which received high marks and was presented at a university symposium.
- Conducted research on sustainable agricultural practices in Latin America, leading to actionable recommendations for local NGOs.
- Volunteered with a local organization to support community development initiatives, enhancing my practical skills and cultural awareness.

EXPERIENCE

Barista // Coffee Collective 2022 – 2024

- Provided exceptional customer service, contributing to a welcoming and efficient environment.
- Trained new staff members on coffee preparation techniques and customer interaction.
- Managed daily operations, including inventory management and cash handling.
- Developed strong communication and teamwork skills through regular interaction with customers and colleagues.

PERSONAL PROFILE

I enjoy dancing salsa, staying fit through regular workouts, and going on hiking trips. I also spend my free time exploring new coffee shops and trying out different brewing techniques. Additionally, I am passionate about learning new languages and am currently improving my Danish.
